

HARDING ASSAILED AS DAUGHERTY'S SHIELD

Stanley Accuses Him of Threatening Press for Printing Charges.

DENOUNCES MUZZLING

Walsh, Montana, Demands Resignation of Rush Holland.

CITES LETTER ON JUDGES

Severe Criticisms of President Made on Floor of the Senate.

Special Dispatch to THE NEW YORK HERALD.

New York Herald Bureau, Washington, D. C., June 3.

Senator Stanley (Dem., Ky.) accused President Harding in the Senate today of trying to use his powerful office to prevent the newspapers from attacking Attorney-General Daugherty and others of the Administration. He said Mr. Harding had made an "implied threat to the press," because of the news printed recently of charges against high officials.

"I say to the President," Senator Stanley said, "that this is not Austria; this is not Prussia. Not the President, nor Congress, nor Judges shall shackle or abridge the freedom of the press in the United States while the First Amendment to the Constitution is intact, and there are men of wisdom and of courage ready to defend and maintain it."

Senator Stanley's criticism of President Harding, during which he appeared for the first time as an assailant of Mr. Daugherty, followed the publication to-day of newspaper articles telling of Mr. Harding's displeasure at what has been printed about Administration officials. Mr. Stanley quoted two of the articles, which pictured the President as condemning those who engage in "blackguarding" officials.

Mr. Stanley, it is known, had particular reference to a talk Mr. Harding had yesterday with the Washington correspondents, when he seemed to be irritated over some of the things the newspapers have been saying. The general impression at the time, however, was that Mr. Harding had particular reference to those who had been attacking the official administration of American relief work in Russia, although, broadly, the same thing may have applied to the attacks on Mr. Daugherty.

Senator Walsh (Mont.) joined the ranks of the Senators attacking Mr. Daugherty by demanding the immediate resignation of Rush Holland, Assistant Attorney-General. He read into the record two letters, one written by Mr. Daugherty to President Harding, and one written to Mr. Daugherty by Mr. Holland.

Mr. Daugherty's letter to President Harding was read at a meeting of the Illinois Bar Association in Chicago yesterday and was intended to show Mr. Daugherty's desire that twenty-four new Federal judges recently authorized be appointed without regard to political considerations. The letter from Mr. Holland, in the form of a memorandum to the Attorney-General, urged that judges for the territory of Hawaii be appointed at once, so that their selection might aid the Republican cause of delegates from the islands. Here is the letter:

Hon. Robert Shingle, Republican National Committeeman for the Territory of Hawaii, has recommended the appointment of Emil C. Peters of Honolulu to be Chief Justice of the Supreme Court of the Territory of Hawaii, vice James C. Cook, term expired. He also recommends Antonio M. Perry of Honolulu to be Associate Justice of the Supreme Court of the Territory of Hawaii, vice Samuel B. Kemp, term expired.

In addition to the recommendation of Mr. Shingle the above named gentlemen are recommended by the Republican Central Committee and by the Bar Association of the islands. This matter has been carefully gone into, and both Mr. Perry and Mr. Peters appear to be eminently qualified for the positions for which they are recommended, and their selection meets the approval of the large majority of the Bar Association and of the leading Republicans of the islands.

There is at present no delegate to Washington from the islands. Prince Kalaniana'ole recently died and the election of his successor has not yet taken place. It is believed that if these nominations are made now they will materially aid the Republican cause of delegates. I recommend that the appointments be made.

Senator Walsh's Demand. Senator Walsh attacked Mr. Holland for allowing politics to influence, in such a way, the selection of Federal judges, and declared Mr. Daugherty, since he had warned so strongly against politics in these cases, should ask at once for Mr. Holland's resignation. Senators Borah (Idaho) and Norris (Neb.) were in conference to-day with Representatives Woodruff (Mich.) and Johnson (S. D.), who stirred up the case against Mr. Daugherty in the House and who met defeat in their efforts to obtain authority for an investigation of the Department of Justice. All four are Republicans. The Senators were asked to see what they could do about getting the Senate to investigate Mr. Daugherty. Senators Borah and Norris said that just at this time, when the tariff and bonus issues are acute, nothing could be done, and so the matter will rest for a time, at least.

Senator Stanley began his attack on President Harding and on Mr. Daugherty soon after the Senate opened its session for the day. "It is a fact," he said, "that men of the Attorney-General's own party have made, deliberately made, grave and serious charges against the Attorney-General and they have been made against him in his official capacity. He has been charged on the floor of the House and on the floor of the Senate repeatedly with offenses so serious, so revolting to every sense of honor that it might be said it was such language as no good man would deserve and no brave man could endure.

"No civilized country, as I understand it, has been especially careful about trying a ghoul in time of war. It is one kind of summary execution, of a quickly deserved death, that the civilized countries of the world have inflicted upon those who invade the battlefields to rifle the bodies of the dead. But the ghoul, running his cadaverous fingers through the unprotected pockets of a dead soldier, is no worse than the man who rifles the treasury in the same hour of need and of peril. He has been charged by men of his own party as using his high office as an official ghoul."

Application of Le Maistre.

"I do not make these charges. I am refuting them. It is possible that we in this day of bureaucracy have reached the point when to vent a man with high authority renders him immune from criticism either in or out of Congress. That a genial, self-poised, courteous gentleman occupying this high office could so far forget himself in his desperate attempt to shield a man who dares not speak for himself? The Republican party, which has existed for nearly 100 years, for the first time to-day sees charge after charge hurled into the teeth of the chief law officer of this Government and there are none so poor to do him reverence. Remembering the pathetic end of the Senator from Indiana, Mr. Watson, they dare not speak in his defense lest his contestants shall shame them.

"Will the President in his desperation, finding no other who dare to say a word for this discredited official, denounce Senators as blackguards who criticize the nefarious and crooked operations of a political broker who makes it a business, it is so charged, to deceive the Chief Magistrate of the nation and if one dares to express his abhorrence of these unclean and abominable offenses he is a rascal and a blackguard."

"The Public Ledger also states: 'It is said that Mr. Harding bitterly resents any such imputation against the executive officers of the government. He appears to resent no less the space given in newspapers to the blackguarding of his officials.'"

ing of any rascal who gets up and makes charges."

"This paper adds that 'In the President's view, newspaper men and newspapers would perform a public service by putting on the brakes.'"

"Think of it, the President of the United States has the power to make and unmake men. The Attorney-General to-day in a public statement admonishes those who are seeking the highest offices that sometime ago the President agreed 'with me' that in naming judges they ought to consult 'us.' Twenty-four judges are soon to be named and 'you must consult us' and that is given to the public. Why? As a notice to all who seek a place upon the bench 'Do not say anything about Daugherty because Daugherty shadows Members of Congress, and Daugherty is not very apt to give his consent.'"

"Is the ermine to be besmirched with the filth that now stains and dishonors the Department of Justice? And does the President mean to announce to the world that Daugherty must be consulted before he will name a judge and that a Senator or Representative is a rascal or a blackguard who denounces Daugherty?"

HEADS N. Y. U. SCHOOL ALUMNI. MILLION PUPILS HAVE SAVINGS.

George V. McLaughlin, superintendent of the State Banking Department, was elected president of the Alumni Association of New York University School of Commerce at the annual meeting yesterday. Mr. McLaughlin was a member of the class of 1910.

The census of school children and their savings, taken each year by the Savings Bank Division of the American Bankers Association, has just been started. It is expected the number of young depositors this year will pass the million mark. In 1920-1921, 862,900 children deposited more than $4,000,000.
